MONTHLY BULLETIN

OF THE

Dairy and Food Division

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PRINTER OF PENNSYLVANIA,

AT

HARRISBURG, PA.

Issued by Direction of Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Dr. B. H. Warren.
MANAGING EDITOR—Oliver D. Schock.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR—Prof. C. B. Cochran.

PUBLISHED FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—EDITION LIMITED TO 25,000 COPIES

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The lists include all licenses granted up to and including February 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.

MONTHLY BULLETIN

OF THE

Dairy and Food Division

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,

PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PRINTER OF PENNSYLVANIA,

AT

HARRISBURG, PA.

Issued by Direction of Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Dr. B. H. Warren.
MANAGING EDITOR—Oliver D. Schock.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR—Prof. C. B. Cochran.

PUBLISHED FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—EDITION LIMITED TO 25,000 COPIES.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The lists include all licenses granted up to and including March 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.

MONTHLY BULLETIN

OF THE

Dairy and Food Division

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PRINTER OF PENNSYLVANIA,

AT

HARRISBURG, PA.

Issued by Direction of Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Dr. B. H. Warren.
MANAGING EDITOR—Oliver D. Schock.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR—Prof. C. B. Cochran.

[PUBLISHED FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—EDITION LIMITED TO 25,000 COPIES.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The lists include all licenses granted up to and including April 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The lists include all licenses granted up to and including May 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thworted or rendered futile.

DAIRY AND FOOD DIVISION.

HARRISBURG, PA., May 15, 1905.

To Whom It May Concern:

The Dairy and Food Commissioner of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully invites careful attention to the appended Acts of Assembly enacted by the recent Legislature, and approved by His Excellency, Governor Pennypacker.

The Act relating to the sale of fresh meat, fish, etc., is of special importance, and those selling, offering or exposing for sale fresh meat, fish, poultry, shell-fish, etc., will do well to comply with its provisions.

It is also to be noted that the so-called "Boracic acid act" of 1903 has been repealed.

Druggists and others dispensing soda-water, soft drinks, etc., will be interested in the text of the "Fruit Syrup Act" which is also printed in this issue of the Monthly Bulletin.

It is but fair to inform manufacturers and the trade, generally, that all persons violating any of the provisions of the several Acts now printed for the first time in this publication, will be held to a strict accountability. Violations of these Acts, if discovered, will result in the enforcement of the law and the infliction of the penalties therein provided.

Very respectfully,

B. H. Warren.

Dairy and Food Commissioner.

SALE OF COLORED OLEOMARGARINE UNLAWFUL.

The Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has just rendered a decision which is of great importance to those interested in the manufacture or sale of oleomargarine in this State.

The case was based upon an appeal from the judgment of the Superior Court affirming judgment of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Blair county, in the case of Commonwealth versus Philip E. Caulfield.

As the decision relates in detail the facts of the case, it is deemed unnecessary to give additional information otherwise than that appearing in the following unabridged report.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
vs.
Philip E. Caulfield.

No. 39 January Term, 1905.
Appeal from judgment of Superior Court affirming judgment of Court of Quarter Session of Blair Co.

Filed May 1, 1905.
Per Curiam:

Although there are a number of other assignments of error, we did not, when we granted an appeal in this case, intend to consider any of them except the one averring the Pennsylvania statute of section 7 of June 24, 1895, to be unconstitutional. The Superior Court Act is imperative upon us in reference to this last averment. As to the other alleged errors, we can see nothing of such importance as calls for our interference with the judgment of the Superior Court. As to the unconstitutionality of the Act, we have no doubt it is constitutional, both under our own Constitution and that of the United States.

The defendant was indicted in the quarter sessions of Blair county for selling oleomargarine in violation of the Act of May 29, 1901, in that, he sold and offered for sale a substance colored to look like butter, which was not butter. The records of the quarter sessions established his guilt; is the statute, under which he was convicted, constitutional? The opinion of the Superior Court, as well as the authorities cited by Judge Rice, who rendered that opinion, conclusively show that the Act in question is in no sense a violation of the Constitution of this State. The case of Plumly v. Massachusetts, 155 U. S. 478, demonstrates, that the statute does not violate the Constitution of the United States. There is no reason why we should stuff the reports with a repetition of these decisions. While they remain in the reports and the statute remains unrepealed, they constitute a clear exposition of the law.

All the assignments of error are over-ruled, and the judgment of the Superior Court is affirmed.

I, Lewis C. Greene, prothonotary of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in and for the Eastern District, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true copy of the opinion in the above entitled cause, so full and entire as appears of record in said court.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court, at Philadelphia, this first day of May, A. D. 1905.

Prothonotary.

COMMONWEALTH NEED NOT FURNISH PORTIONS OF OR DUPLICATE SAMPLES TO ANY DEFENDANTS.

Officials of the Dairy and Food Division of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture have frequently received requests from defendants or their attorneys that the Dairy and Food Commissioner or his agents shall furnish a part of, or a duplicate of the original sample of the food commodity or article upon which the prosecution for the alleged violation of the law was based.

These requests have always been refused by the officials of the Commonwealth in charge of the Dairy and Food Division.

The recent opinion of Hon. Martin Bell, of the Common Pleas Court of Blair county, which is appended, fully sustains the position taken by the Dairy and Food Commissioner upon this important and interesting question. It reads as follows:

IN THE COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS OF BLAIR COUNTY.

Commwealth,
vs.
J. A. Koller, et al.

In re. rule to show cause why portion of sample taken by the Commonwealth should not be turned over to defendants for analysis.

BY THE COURT: "So far as the rule for a bill of particulars is concerned, as ruled by the Supreme Court in Commonwealth vs. Powell, 23 Sup. Ct. 372, a bill of particulars in a criminal case is not a matter of right, but is only an appeal to the sound discretion of the court. My recollection is that in some of the pure food indictments in cases tried in this court there was simply an allegation in the indictment that the pure food act had been violated, without specifying the particular violation. I am inclined to think that that indictment was perfectly good. We have our act of assembly which provides that an indictment shall be deemed sufficient which simply follows the words of the act of assembly, and if this indictment had simply followed the words of the act of assembly, and been in the general form with which we found other indictments we would feel it but right and proper that the Commonwealth should specify the particular article of food which was supposed to be adulterated, and at least specify in a general way how that particular article of food was adulterated; but in the present instance the particular article of food is specified, to wit, chocolate, and there is a general statement as to how it is adulterated. I think we will all agree on a moments reflection that the rulings of the appellate courts on this subject are perfectly right and proper. The authority cited by Mr. Baldridge is not an analagous authority at all. In the first place, as stated by Mr. Woodward, the physical examination to which the plaintiff is compelled to subject himself is always made—and I am speaking only as to the orders of this court—is always in the presence of the physician of the plaintiff. I have drawn frequent orders compelling plaintiffs in damage cases to submit to physical examinations, but I was always careful to provide that the physician of the plaintiff should be present so that no unfair advantage could be taken of the plaintiff, and that everything that was done there was done in the presence of the physician of the plaintiff. But it seems to me that the endeavor to liken a civil proceeding to a criminal proceeding is fallacious, and that is the vice of the offer. In a civil proceeding the plaintiff may be compelled to subject himself to a physical examination. At the same time he has the mutual and coordinate right of compelling defendant to disclose his case. Not so in a criminal case. The defendant can hold all the papers in his possession, and there is no power to compel him to produce them. He can sit on the witness stand and say I have a paper at home, and the court is powerless to make him produce evidence to establish his guilt. That is one reason. In the second place a civil suit is tried on the weight of the evidence

Each party comes in with an equal right to be heard as to the measure of proof, but in a criminal suit the burden is on the Commonwealth to establish the case beyond a reasonable doubt and these maxims of ours about the reasonable doubt that the jury must come to the firm, unwavering conviction that the defendant is guilty, have come down to us from times when judges were wont to hang a man for stealing a loaf of bread. Now I do not say in the present criminal procedure that we should get away from those old maxims, but I do say that while we adhere to those old maxims, which were adopted when they hung men for stealing a loaf of bread, such maxims ought not to be applied against the Commonwealth on the one side and then on the other hand the Commonwealth be compelled to disclose all their case, and the absence of precedent to my mind is strong proof that there is no warrant for a court compelling the Commonwealth to submit their evidence in advance to the defendant. It does seem to me that the able criminal lawyers who have defended criminals charged with grave offences if there was any warrant for such a precedent would have brought it in force. Take for instance a murder case. The Commonwealth claim that they found on the prisoner a bloody shirt, and that those blood stains are human blood, not chicken blood, or blood which he received butchering a hog, but human blood; now we all know that the experts on the part of the defense coach the lawyers for the defense while they cross-examine the experts of the Commonwealth, but I do not think there would be any warrant for a defendant charged with murder to say you must tear that shirt in two, and you must give my chemists one-half of the alleged blood stains so that they can prepare a defense; or, to put it more mildly, that they can have the alleged blood stains analyzed. I do not know of any such precedent, and the very fact that Mr. Baldridge, after diligent search, has been unable to find one to my mind is proof that there is no warrant to force the Commonwealth to produce the evidence they are going to submit. As I said before, in a civil suit, under certain equitable rules, each side must apprize the other side of what evidence they are going to use, but I do not think it would be fair to say to the Commonwealth you must give the defendant all your side of the case so that he can examine and rensack it, and at the same time allow the defendant to keep his mouth shut. It seems to me that would be giving a defendant an unfair advantage, and it seems to me it would be unfair to compel the Commonwealth to allow a defendant to subject their samples to examination in advance, and I will overrule the application for the compelling of the production of such samples. As to experiments in open court I do not know to what extent I will go about a matter of that kind. I did rule in the formaldehyde cases where Mr. Hicks wanted to take a drink of the preservative, and wanted the court to take a drink of it, and let the jury take a drink of it, I did rule that he could take a drink, but the court would not, and would not have the jury do so. Mr. Hicks was going to turn the court into a laboratory, and I think we said we would not have any laboratory here in court. I do not know to what extent I would go if there was an effort on the part of the defendant to examine samples by microscopic tests—I will leave that matter open.

SPECIAL REPORT ON

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES,

By PROFESSOR C. B. COCHRAN, West Chester, Pa.
Chief Chemist, Dairy and Food Division.

WEST CHESTER, PA., May 15, 1905.

DR. B. H. WARREN, Dairy and Food Commissioner, Harrisburg, Pa.:

Dear Sir: Under your administration I have examined about 600 samples of alcoholic liquors. Of these, I have reported to your Department as adulterated, four hundred and fifty samples. Of the samples of wines, blackberry brandies and blackberry cordials, taken by your agents, more than 95 per cent. were found to be grossly adulterated. In fact it was an exceedingly rare thing to find a sample that came any where near being a true representation of the article for which it had been named.

In nearly every one of the samples of blackberry cordial, blackberry wine and blackberry brandy examined, there was a total absence of blackberry juice. Neither the fruit nor any other part of the blackberry plant had been used in their make-up. These liquors were bogus and imitation articles from beginning to end. In almost every case the required color of blackberry juice had been imitated by the use of the large number of red coal-tar dyes.

In the various samples of blackberry wine and blackberry brandy examined, not less than twelve to fifteen different coal-tar dyes were detected. The influence which the coal-tar dyes exert upon the human organism differs with different dyes. Some are comparatively harmless, while others are deadly poisons. Some of the most poisonous dyes of this class have been used in coloring butter and oleomargarine. A few years ago a child living near Reading, Pa., died from the poisonous effects of a dose of butter-color. The amount of butter-color taken was not positively established, but I was informed that it probably did not exceed two teaspoonfuls.

This particular butter color consisted of a mixture of two coal-tar dyes dissolved in oil. The violently poisonous character of at least one of the coal-tar dyes used as a food color has come directly under my personal observation. However, as the details concerning the effects of this particular poison have been published in a Bulletin issued by the Dairy and Food Department, it is perhaps unnecessary to report them in this article. Suffice it to say that among the large number of coal-tar colors that have been used for coloring foods, there are a few which can properly be classed along with such substances as arsenic and corrosive sublimate, among the violent poisons.

From the results of the experiments of Prof. Weber of Ohio, one is led to the conclusion that nearly all of the coal-tar colors exert a retarding action on either gastric or pancreatic digestion. Consequently even those which are considered non-poisonous are not entirely harmless since they possess to a marked degree the power to retard or stop the processes of digestion. This is a characteristic which might be capable of producing serious results in case of individuals whose power of digestion are already feeble. The reckless coloring of various articles destined to enter the human stomach is a jeopardizing of health that is both needless and culpable, particularly if, as is frequently the case, the only purpose of the artificial coloring is to conceal fraud and inferiority. In the coloring of many of the samples of blackberry brandies and port wines, the coal-tar dyes have been used very generously for the purpose of imparting a deep rich color, which might have the effect of leading the consumer to conclude that the article was not only genuine, but also of superior quality.

Water containing a coal-tar dye in solution, might be sold for port wine or blackberry brandy so far as appearance to the eye is concerned, but other substances must also be added for the purpose of deceiving the sense of smell and of taste. Cider and cherry juice or prune juice are added to give a fruity flavor. As sweetening agents, cane sugar is sometimes used, but more frequently glucose and occasionally saccharin. This last named substance is one of the coal-tar products. It is a white crystalline powder, possessing as its most prominent characteristic an intensely sweet taste; one ounce of this substance is said to possess as much sweetening power as thirty pounds of the best cane sugar. Saccharin is sold as a substitute for sugar under a variety of proprietary trade names. In certain diseases it is sometimes prescribed in limited amounts by physicians as a sugar substitute. Manufacturers of food products are solicited to use this article as a cheap substitute for sugar, and I am sorry to say, this substitution is sometimes made, and doubtless would be much more frequently made were it not for the vigorous campaign waged in this State against every form of food adulteration.

To dose an ignorant and unsuspecting public with saccharin as a substitution for sugar is not only fraudulent in the extreme, but is also dangerous to health. Sugar is a most valuable food. Sugar and starch form about three-fourths of the food of mankind and starch in the process of digestion is converted into sugar, consequently three-fourths of what really constitutes nourishment for the body and maintains animal heat and energy is sugar.

Saccharin is not a food and possesses no food value, whatever. It contributes nothing to the building up of the body tissues nor does it maintain animal heat or energy. If given to a starving person, it would not prolong life a single hour. To expect sugar and get saccharin, is equivalent, so far as nourishment is concerned, to asking for bread and receiving a stone, but beyond this point our illustration cannot be carried, for the receiver of the stone knows only too well that the stone is not food, while the consumer of saccharin receives a sensation similar to that derived from sugar; he therefore, not only is led to believe that he has taken food, but this knowledge of having eaten, dulls the appetite and helps to satisfy his sense of hunger. By this means he is prevented from obtaining the needed amount of food. But this is not all, saccharin is a drug and while it is not a violent poison, it is not entirely inert. Its continued substitution for sugar, not only robs the body of nourishment and thus endangers health, but its continued presence in the human organism may also become a disturbing influence.

Returning to the composition of imitation port wines and blackberry brandies, some alcohol must of necessity be added to give it the properties of a wine or a brandy, but as alcohol is expensive and the profits can be increased by diminishing the amount added, there is a strong temptation to be as economical as possible in its use.

Therefore it follows that alcohol is not added in sufficient quantities to prevent the sample from souring. In order to prevent this fermentation and its consequent loss to manufacturers and retailers, a sufficient amount of salicylic acid is added to keep it indefinitely. If the article is to represent a blackberry brandy, a very small amount of the essential oils of various spices, such as cinnamon and cloves, may perhaps be added; if a port wine, a little tartaric acid and artificial ethers in very minute quantities are added. This gives a fair conception of the character of the compounds sold in the markets of this State, under the names of port wine and blackberry brandy or blackberry wine.

More than fifty percentum of the other wines examined show no perceptible improvement as to quality over those just mentioned. In other words, they were also imitation articles, neither color nor taste being due to the presence of fermented grape juice.

The examinations of beer made in my laboratory were confined chiefly to a search for preservatives. Salicylic acid was detected in about twenty per centum of the samples. There is no standard of purity for beer, and under present definitions, the brewer may use anything that will serve his purpose, provided the substances are not distinctly injurious to health.

There was a time when beer was made from malted barley, hops, yeast and water, but the substitution of other substances for malted barley and hops has been so extensively adopted and for so long a time, that it has for this reason—or because of the powerful influence of the brewing industry—received legal recognition, in some European countries. There are, however, other countries in Europe, which hold by legal enactments to the old standard, viz: malted barley, hops, yeast and water. In the standards adopted by the United States Commissioner of Agriculture, are recognized two distinct types of beer; the one made according to the old formula, from malted grain and hops, to be known as "malt beer," the other made by modern methods in which other substances are substituted either wholly or in part for malted grain and hops, to be known as "beer."

Under this new standard beer is defined as a fermented saccharine infusion, to which some wholesome bitter substance has been added. Under this definition, it would appear a brewer is at liberty not only to use malted grain, but also such sugary liquids as may suit his use any malted grain, but also such sugary liquids as may suit his purpose. Glucose is very largely used to replace a part of the malt. In place of hops other bitter substances are employed.

Salicylic acid is a preservative which has been very extensively used in foods and drinks. It has been found not only in cider, wines, beer and soft drinks of all kinds, but also in canned fruits, maraschino cherries, canned vegetables, catsups, soda water syrups, fruit juices, etc. While the amount of salicylic acid which a healthy person would obtain in a single glass of cider, beer or grape juice, or in a single dish of canned pears or peaches, might not and probably would not be sufficient to cause any perceptible injury, yet, when we come to sum up the total amount of this drug which would be taken each day by the average individual in canned vegetables, canned fruits and preserved drinks, the amount consumed is sufficient to excite apprehension of serious danger to health.

Our examinations of whiskey indicates the fact that this article also furnishes a rich field for adulteration. The majority of whiskies examined were weak in alcohol and were colored with caramel. Many of them contained glycerine and a few cayenne pepper. From this evidence, one is led to the conclusion that much of the whiskey now offered for sale in Pennsylvania is either wholly an imitation article or heavily adulterated. Such whiskies as have been examined could be made from water and common alcohol, colored with a little burnt sugar. A little glycerine would help to give the bead found in good whiskey, while the addition of a very little cayenne pepper would greatly economize alcohol, by imparting a taste which might be taken for the latter named substance. It is perhaps needless to say that caramel, glycerine and pepper are not normal constituents of whiskey. In addition to this, fusel oil and various artificial ethers are added in minute quantities to imitate the bouquet which whiskey developes with age.

Beta-naphthol, a coal-tar product, and a preserving agent of considerable power, has been found by me in cider. The use of this substance for this purpose is of comparatively recent origin. Concerning its influence upon the human organism when taken repeatedly in minute doses, very little so far as I know, has been published.

Sulphur dioxide has also been found in various forms of alcoholic liquors. This may be due to the burning of sulphur in the casks before filling, or to the addition of sulphates. The addition of either in this case is to prevent the liquid from undergoing further fermentation. The practice of sulphuring the casks is legalized in most wine producing countries, but the amount of sulphur dioxide allowed in the finished wine is restricted within very narrow limits. In many European countries more than eight parts per million of free sulphur dioxide or twenty parts total (free or combined) is regarded as injurious to health and the sale of wine containing more than this amount is illegal.

Wood alcohol has occasionally has reported in certain spirituous liquors. As a fuel and a solvent for certain varnishes the substitution of this cheaper fluid for the more expensive grain alcohol may be desirable, but as a substitute in liquors intended for human consumption, is practicing economy with absolute recklessness as to consequences.

It is claimed by some investigators that wood alcohol is much more dangerous to health than the ordinary form of alcohol which is normal to fermented and distilled liquors, and that total blindness is one of the physiological evils which follows as a result of its use. If this statement is true, then the use of wood alcohol as an adulterant offers a good illustration of the recklessness with which the compounders of liquors may sacrifice the welfare of their customers and the public in general, for the sake of increased profits.

Very truly yours,

C. B. COCHRAN,

State Chemist.

EXAMINATION INTO LIQUOR SUPPLY.

The appended supplement contains a list of liquor prosecutions which have been terminated at judicial hearings or by court trials, but does not include a large number of suits which remain unfinished, because of the fact that the question of the application of the Pure Food Act of June 26, 1895, to spirituous and malt liquors, was appealed to the Superior Court, and after being affirmed was transferred to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. This appeal originated in the court of Crawford county, in the blackberry brandy case of Commonwealth, versus Kebort.

It is uncertain as to when the Supreme Court will render a decision upon the important point at issue, but it is but fair to state that if the higher court sustains the opinion of the lower court, which affirmed the constitutionality of the Pure Food Act of 1895, so far as it relates to the sale of adulterated liquor, all the remaining unfinished suits will be pressed vigorously and promptly.

The Dairy and Food Commissioner sincerely regrets that the vexatious problem has again presented itself causing an unexpected delay, as the examinations into the liquor supply of Pennsylvania revealed the strong necessity for radical action. It was a conspicuous fact that the price at which many brands of liquor, including brandies, were sold, had no relation whatever, as to the purity or quality of the article sold. It was equally unfortunate that these preliminary examinations demonstrated the unpleasant facts that in a large percentage of analytical examinations of so-called "fruit brandies," the analysis proved that they were absolute counterfeits, and did not contain a particle of the fruit after which they were named. The actual truth consisted in the deplorable fact that in addition to being grossly misnamed or entirely fictitious, the article was decidedly harmful to the invalid who might have purchased the alleged pure brandy for medicinal use, or as a stimulant.

The prosecution of liquor dealers, saloon keepers, etc., attracted considerable attention, but the movement was generally regarded by the press and public as righteous and entirely proper. The sale of counterfeit, adulterated, preserved and poisonous substitutes for pure whiskey, brandy, beer and porter had reached large proportions, but it is pleasing to add that the present conditions are much improved, and that the legitimate dealer is to-day the strongest friend and most loyal supporter of the pure food and drink legislation of the Commonwealth.

In numerous instances, some of the prominent wholesale and retail dealers of the State, as well as distillers, wrote strong commendatory letters, and expressed their gratefulness and appreciation for driving from the Pennsylvania markets spurious and harmful liquors.

Should the Supreme Court affirm the several decisions of the lower courts, the laws will be enforced, as in the past, fearlessly, and without favor or partiality, recognizing the truth that the health of the people is paramount to any monetary or other selfish reason for imposing such vile stuff upon an unsuspecting and much-wronged public.

The accompanying report also includes an extended list of samples which were purchased in the open markets by the sworn special agents of the Dairy and Food Commissioner and forwarded to the analytical chemists for their careful analyses, but which did not fall short of the requirements of the Pure Food Act. The investigations did not extend beyond the question of preservatives or harmful coloring materials, and as already intimated, if the Supreme Court decision is not adverse, a more thorough and vigorous investigation is sure to follow.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The list include all licenses granted up to and including June 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permittd to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.

DAIRY AND FOOD DIVISION.

HARRISBURG, PA., June 15, 1905.

To Whom It May Concern:

The Dairy and Food Commissioner of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully invites careful attention to the appended Acts of Assembly enacted by the recent Legislature, and approved by His Excellency, Governor Pennypacker.

The Act relating to the sale of fresh meat, fish, etc., is of special importance, and those selling, offering or exposing for sale fresh meat, fish, poultry, shell-fish, etc., will do well to comply with its provisions.

It is also to be carefully noted that the so-called "Boracic acid act" of 1903 has been repealed.

Druggists and others dispensing soda-water, soft drinks, etc., will be interested in the text of the "Fruit Syrup Act" which is also printed in this issue of the Monthly Bulletin.

It is but fair to inform manufacturers and the trade, generally, that all persons violating any of the provisions of the several Acts now printed in this publication, will be held to a strict accountability. Violations of these Acts, if discovered, will result in the enforcement of the law and the infliction of the penalties therein provided.

Very respectfully,

B. H. Warren.

Dairy and Food Commissioner.

SALE OF COLORED OLEOMARGARINE UNLAWFUL.

The Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has recently rendered a decision which is of great importance to those interested in the manufacture or sale of oleomargarine in this State.

The case was based upon an appeal from the judgment of the Superior Court affirming judgment of the Court of Quarter Sessions of Blair county, in the case of Commonwealth versus Philip E. Caulfield.

As the decision relates in detail the facts of the case, it is deemed unnecessary to give additional information otherwise than that appearing in the following unabridged report.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
vs.
Philip E. Caulfield.

No. 39 January Term, 1905.
Appeal from judgment of Superior Court affirming judgment of Court of Quarter Sessions of Blair Co.

Filed May 1, 1905.
Per Curiam:

Although there are a number of other assignments of error, we did not, when we granted an appeal in this case, intend to consider any of them except the one averring the Pennsylvania statute of section 7 of June 24, 1895, to be unconstitutional. The Superior Court Act is imperative upon us in reference to this last averment. As to the other alleged errors, we can see nothing of such importance as calls for our interference with the judgment of the Superior Court. As to the unconstitutionality of the Act, we have no doubt it is constitutional, both under our own Constitution and that of the United States.

The defendant was indicted in the quarter sessions of Blair county for selling oleomargarine in violation of the Act of May 29, 1901, in that, he sold and offered for sale a substance colored to look like butter, which was not butter. The records of the quarter sessions established his guilt; is the statute, under which he was convicted, constitutional? The opinion of the Superior Court, as well as the authorities cited by Judge Rice, who rendered that opinion, conclusively show that the Act in question is in no sense a violation of the Constitution of this State. The case of Plumly v. Massachusetts, 155 U. S. 478, demonstrates, that the statute does not violate the Constitution of the United States. There is no reason why we should stuff the reports with a repetition of these decisions. While they remain in the reports and the statute remains unrepealed, they constitute a clear exposition of the law.

All the assignments of error are over-ruled, and the judgment of the Superior Court is affirmed.

I, Lewis C. Greene, prothonotary of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in and for the Eastern District, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true copy of the opinion in the above entitled cause, so full and entire as appears of record in said court.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court, at Philadelphia, this first day of May, A. D, 1905.

COMMONWEALTH NEED NOT FURNISH PORTIONS OF OR DUPLICATE SAMPLES TO ANY DEFENDANTS.

Officials of the Dairy and Food Division of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture have frequently received requests from defendants or their attorneys that the Dairy and Food Commissioner or his agents shall furnish a part of, or a duplicate of the original sample of the food commodity or article upon which the prosecution for the alleged violation of the law was based.

These requests have always been refused by the officials of the Commonwealth in charge of the Dairy and Food Division.

The recent opinion of Hon. Martin Bell, of the Common Pleas Court of Blair county, which is appended, fully sustains the position taken by the Dairy and Food Commissioner upon this important and interesting question. It reads as follows:

IN THE COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS OF BLAIR COUNTY.

Commonwealth,
vs.
J. A. Koller, et al.

In re. rule to show cause why portions of sample taken by the Commonwealth should not be turned over to defendants for analysis.

BY THE COURT: "So far as the rule for a bill of particulars is concerned, as ruled by the Supreme Court in Commonwealth vs. Powell, 23 Sup. Ct. 372, a bill of particulars in a criminal case is not a matter of right, but is only an appeal to the sound discretion of the court. My recollection is that in some of the pure food indictments in cases tried in this court there was simply an allegation in the indictment that the pure food act had been violated, without specifying the particular violation. I am inclined to think that that indictment was perfectly good. We have our act of assembly which provides that an indictment shall be deemed sufficient which simply follows the words of the act of assembly, and if this indictment had simply followed the words of the act of assembly, and been in the general form with which we found other indictments we would feet it but right and proper that the Commonwealth should specify the particular article of food which was supposed to be adulterated, and at least specify in a general way how that particular article of food was adulterated; but in the present instance the particular article of food is specified, to wit, chocolate, and there is a general statement as to how it is adulterated. I think we will all agree on a moment's reflection that the rulings of the appellate courts on this subject are perfectly right and proper. The authority cited by Mr. Balbridge is not an analagous authority at all. In the first place, as stated by Mr. Woodward, the physical examination to which the plaintiff is compelled to subject himself is always made—and I am speaking only as to the orders of this court—is always in the presence of the physician of the plaintiff. I have drawn frequent orders compelling plaintiffs in damage cases to submit to physical examinations, but I was always careful to provide that the physician of the plaintiff should be present so that no unfair advantage could be taken of the plaintiff, and that everything that was done there was done in the presence of the physician of the plaintiff. But it seems to me that the endeavor to liken a civil proceeding to a criminal proceeding is fallacious, and that is the vice of the offer. In a civil proceeding the plaintiff may be compelled to subject himself to a physical examination. At the same time he has the mutual and coordinate right of compelling defendant to disclose his case. Not so in a criminal case. The defendant can hold all the papers in his possession, and there is no power to compel him to produce them. He can sit on the witness stand and say I have a paper at home, and the court is powerless to make him produce evidence to establish his guilt. That is one reason. In the second place a civil suit is tried on the weight of the evidence. Each party comes in with an equal right to be heard as to the measure of proof, but in a criminal suit the burden is on the Commonwealth to establish the case beyond a reasonable doubt and these maxims of ours about the reasonable doubt that the jury must come to the firm, unwavering conviction that the defendant is guilty, have come down to us from times when judges were wont to hang a man for stealing a loaf of bread. Now I do not say in the present criminal procedure that we should get away from those old maxims, but I do say that while we adhere to those old maxims, which were adopted when they hung men for stealing a loaf of bread, such maxims ought not to be applied against the Commonwealth on the one side and then on the other hand the Commonwealth be compelled to disclose all their case, and the absence of precedent to my mind is strong proof that there is no warrant for a court compelling the Commonwealth to submit their evidence in advance to the defendant. It does seem to me that the able criminal lawyers who have defended criminals charged with grave offences if there was any warrant for such a precedent would have brought it in force. Take for instance a murder case. The Commonwealth claim that they found on the prisoner a bloody shirt, and that those blood stains are human blood, not chicken blood, or blood which he received butchering a hog, but human blood; now we all know that the experts on the part of the defense coach the lawyers for the defense while they cross-examine the experts of the Commonwealth, but I do not think there would be any warrant for a defendant charged with murder to say you must tear that shirt in two and you must give my chemist one-half of the alleged blood stains so that they can prepare a defense; or, to put it more mildly, that they can have the alleged blood stains analyzed. I do not know of any such precedent, and the very fact that Mr. Baldridge, after diligent search, has been unable to find one to my mind is proof that there is no warrant to force the Commonwealth to produce the evidence they are going to submit. As I said before, in a civil suit, under certain equitable rules, each side must apprize the other side of what evidence they are going to use, but I do not think it would be fair to say to the Commonwealth you must give the defendant all your side of the case so that he can examine and ransack it, and at the same time allow the defendant to keep his mouth shut. It seems to me that would be giving a defendant an unfair advantage, and it seems to me it would be unfair to compel the Commonwealth to allow a defendant to subject their samples to examination in advance, and I will overrule the application for the compelling of the production of such samples. As to experiments in open court I do not know to what extent I will go about a matter of that kind. I did rule in the formaldehyde cases where Mr. Hicks wanted to take a drink of the preservative, and wanted the court to take a drink of it, and let the jury take a drink of it, I did rule that he could take a drink, but the court would not, and would not have the jury do so. Mr. Hicks was going to turn the court into a laboratory, and I think we said we would not have any laboratory here in court. I do not know to what extent I would go if there was an effort on the part of the defendant to examine samples by microscopic tests—I will leave that matter open."

RECENT OPINIONS OF THE HON. HAMPTON L. CARSON, ATTORNEY GENERAL OF PENNSYLVANIA, RELATING TO THE DAIRY AND FOOD LAWS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

To Whom It May Concern: The appended opinions of the Hon. Hampton L. Carson, Attorney General of Pennsylvania, are respectfully submitted to the readers of the MONTHLY BULLETIN, for information.

The adverse decision of the Supreme Court which declared that the Pure Food Act of June 26, 1895, did not apply to adulterated, drugged or poisonous liquor, and that no prosecutions could be sustained under the aforesaid law, has resulted in numerous applications from defendants who had paid fines and costs to the Dairy and Food Commissioner for reimbursement. The opinion just delivered is self-explanatory.

Another opinion from the same learned authority is also printed, as it relates to the adulteration of liquor, etc., and suggests the proper remedial measures necessary for coping with the evil.

These two opinions read as follows:

Office of Attorney General,
Harrisburg, Pa., June 22, 1905.

Dr. B. H. Warren,
Dairy and Food Commissioner,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Sir: You have asked for an official opinion with regard to the payment of fines collected by the Commonwealth in pure food prosecutions. I assume that what is meant is a prosecution under the act of June 26, 1895, for the sale of adulterated liquors, and that inasmuch as the portion of the act declared unconstitutional by the Chief Justice in the case of Commonwealth vs. Kebort is limited solely to the adulterations of liquor, the question which you put must be restated so as to embrace solely the matter of repayment of fines collected by the Commonwealth in prosecutions hitherto brought for the adulterations of liquors, and I take it that the word liquor must be read in the narrow sense of an intoxicant, because in my judgment the decision of the court does not relate to prosecutions brought by you for the adulteration of milk or other liquids which are recognized as food.

With the question thus limited, I answer that there is no provision in the law which would authorize the repayment by the Commonwealth or by you, as the Commonwealth's officer, of fines already collected. At the time the prosecutions were brought and the money was received through the payment of fines, you were acting within the terms of an act of Assembly presumed to be constitutional, and sustained by a decision of the Superior Court which had not been reversed. Section 5 of this act distinctly provided that all penalties and costs for the violation of its provisions should be paid to the Dairy and Food Commissioner or his agent, and by him paid into the State Treasury, to be kept as a fund separate and apart for the use of the Department of Agriculture for the enforcement of the act, and to be drawn out upon warrant signed by the Secretary of Agriculture and the Auditor General. The moneys must, therefore, be treated as State moneys and in the Treasury of the State, and whether actually paid to the State Treasurer or still in your hands awaiting payment makes no difference because it is your duty to pay the same into the State Treasury. There is no statute which would authorize you drawing a warrant or having a warrant drawn by the Secretary of Agriculture to be joined in by the Auditor General upon the State Treasurer for the reimbursement or repayment of these fines, and the moneys being in the State Treasury, cannot be drawn out without specific appropriation. Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution providing expressly that "no money shall be paid out of the Treasury except upon appropriations made by law, and on warrant drawn by the proper officer in pursuance thereof." Inasmuch as the Legislature has not authorized the Secretary of Agriculture or yourself to draw warrants for any such purpose, and there is no such appropriation of the fund now in the State Treasury arising from the source indicated, there can be no such return made.

Aside from this it is a general principle of law that the Commonwealth is not liable for costs. We have followed a fixed and certain principle prevailing in England, that at the common law the king neither receives nor pays costs in any case, unless specially directed by act of Parliament or Assembly. In the case of Irwin vs. Commissioners of Northumberland county, 1 S. & R., 505, and also McKeehan vs. the Commonwealth, 3 Penn'a. State, 153, it was held that the Commonwealth stands in the place of the king. The subject is further discussed in Commonwealth vs. Johnson, 5 S. & R., 194, and Lyon vs. Adams, 4 S. & R., 443, In the case of Commonwealth vs. Philadelphia County, 8 S. & R., 151, the court in speaking of a kindred subject, said: "The recognizance is not granted to the county; the county is not the assignee of the State, it can neither release the action, nor mitigate nor remit the forfeiture. The Commonwealth is not liable for costs on her own prosecutions, whether civil or criminal. This exemption, whether it be called prerogative or privilege, is founded on the sovereign character of the State, amenable to no judicial tribunal, subject to no process." Wadlinger on the law of costs in Pennsylvania, (p. 163). See also American and English Encyclopedia of Law, vol. 4, page 316, where it is said: "The general terms of an act giving costs do not include the State or national governments; and, in the absence of express provisions, costs are not awarded in favor or against them, and in actions of a public nature, conducted in good faith for the public benefit, costs are rarely awarded against public officers."

I am of opinion, therefore, that you cannot make repayment of fines. This general answer is sufficient to cover the matter of costs referred to as growing out of the liquor prosecutions pending, but not yet disposed of, which you will now be called upon to deal with in view of the decision of the Supreme Court. With the responsibility or legal liability of the county or counties you have nothing, whatever, to do. Your standpoint is that of a Commonwealth's officer and you should act accordingly, leaving to the course of events and to such steps as counsel for the parties defendant may see fit to employ, the determination of the proper method of raising the legal question.

I herewith return you the letters accompanying the request for my opinion.

Very respectfully,

(Signed.) HAMPTON L. CARSON,
Attorney General.

Office of the Attorney General,
Harrisburg, Pa., June 22, 1905.

Dr. B. H. Warren
Dairy and Food Commissioner,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Sir: I have examined the papers sent me by Mr. O. D. Schock, Assistant Dairy and Food Commissioner, consisting of Professor Cochran's special report on analyses of liquor, certain chemists' reports, the opinion of the Superior Court in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Kebort, and the opinion of Chief Justice Mitchell in the same case, and read them in the light of certain memoranda submitted by you.

The opinion of the Chief Justice in effect declares the act of June 26, 1895, (P. L. 317) unconstitutional so far as it was assumed to apply to drink. The decision, however, does not change the effect of the act in as far as it applies to the adulteration of food. I do not read the decision of the Supreme Court as covering such liquids as milk, cream and buttermilk, because such liquids are regarded as food. So far, therefore, as the matter of adulterations of food are concerned, your powers and duties continue as formerly, but you cannot prosecute, under this act, violators of its terms in the matter of drink. You ask whether or not the Department of Health can prosecute such offenders under the terms of the act creating a Department of Health, approved the 27th of April, 1905. Sections 5, 7, 8, 9 and 14 are the only ones from which such a power could be inferentially derived. A careful examination of them satisfies me that they are not specific enough to justify criminal prosecutions for such acts as you have hitherto been in the habit of prosecuting, nor is there anything in the title of the act creating a Department of Health and defining its powers and duties which would give notice to legislators or citizens that violations of the law in the matter of adulterations of drink could be prosecuted by the Department of Health or its officers. In other words, the very objection which proved conclusive in the opinion of the Chief Justice when dealing with the defects of the title to the act of June 26, 1895, could be urged against the act creating a Department of Health, were it stretched to the point of covering prosecutions. Nowhere in the act creating a Department of Health is it made the duty of the Commissioner of Health to institute such prosecutions, and a careful examination of it leads me to believe that the protection of the health of the people of the State, and the determination and employment of the most efficient and practical means for the prevention and suppression of diseases do not contemplate the prosecution of individuals selling adulterated liquor. It would be unwise to attempt to stretch that statute in that direction or to cover such offenses. This is but a general view. If there be any specific action contemplated in a specific class of cases, I prefer to be specifically interrogated, for it may be that some regulation of the Department of Health could be devised to correct or restrain the sale of adulterated liquors by anyone on the ground of danger to the public health. This, however, presents a different question from that before me.

I am of opinion that the State Pharmaceutical Examining Board can prosecute offenders who manufacture for sale, offer for sale, or sell adulterated drugs and medicinal preparations. The powers of that Board are defined by the act of 25th of May, 1897 (P. L. 85), but their powers are not bestowed upon the Department of Health and cannot be exercised by that Department; nor do I think that the State Pharmaceutical Examining Board could prosecute the ordinary sellers of liquor, even though the liquor be adulterated. My reading of the statute confines its provisions to the sale of drugs and medicinal preparations.

There is a part of our general criminal code which may be of interest. Let me call your attention to Section 1 of the act of 14th of April, 1863 (P. L. 389), which declares that "It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to make use of any active poison or other deleterious drugs, in any quantity or quantities, in the manufacture or preparation, by process of rectifying or otherwise, of any intoxicating malt or alcoholic liquors, or for any person or persons to knowingly sell such poisoned or drugged liquors in any quantity or quantities, and any person or persons so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor." Section 5 of the same act provides that on conviction, the convict shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $500, and to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding twelve months or both or either in the discretion of the court. The second section provides that manufacturers shall brand their names on barrels and also the words "containing no deleterious drugs or added poison," and shall also certify the same fact or facts to the purchaser over his, her or their own proper signature. The third section provides that possession of drugged liquor shall be deemed prima facie evidence of a violation of the provisions of the act and the fourth section provides that any suspected article or specimen of intoxicating malt or alcholic liquor shall be subjected to analysis by some competent person to perform the same under the direction of the court before which the case is tried, and such analysis, duly certified under oath shall be deemed legal evidence in any court in the State.

The duty of enforcing this act of April 14, 1863, is imposed under the law upon the district attorney. I herewith return the papers which you sent me.

Very respectfully,

(Signed.) HAMPTON L. CARSON,
Attorney General.

SPECIAL REPORT OF ANALYSES OF CONDENSED MILKS AND INFANTS' AND INVALIDS' FOODS.

BY PROF. C. B. COCHRAN, Chief Chemist, West Chester, Pa.

West Chester, Pa., June 15, 1905.

Dr. B. H. Warren,
Dairy and Food Commissioner,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: With your permission a series of analyses of condensed milks and infants' and invalids' foods has recently been made in my laboratory.

This work was undertaken because of numerous inquiries from physicians and milk dealers in regard to the composition of the above-named articles. Physicians have manifested a desire to have some information in regard to the composition of these foods, that they might the more intelligently plan the diet of an infant or an invalid.

Dealers in milk and cream have been obliged to sell their products in competition with the various brands of condensed milks, and in not a few instances the selling price of the latter seemed so low that it furnished good grounds for suspicion as to its quality and purity.

In tables I, II and IV are given the results of the analyses made in this laboratory. Table III is copied from the report of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station for the year 1904.

These tables taken together represent the results of analyses not only of a large number of brands, but also the products of many different factories.

The fraud which would be most practicable and most profitable to the manufacture of condensed milk would doubtless be the substitution either wholly or in part of skimmed milk for milk containing its full contents of fat. In other words, the utilization of skimmed milk as far as possible is the most tempting and most probable form of adulteration connected with this business.

The results of the analyses set forth in the following tables indicate that, as a rule, the condensed milks put upon our markets are made from milk of fairly good quality.

In cow's milk that is normal in composition the fat will not be less than 3-10 (or 30 per cent.) of the total solids and is more likely to be 32-100 of the total solids. The column headed "fat in the milk solids" shows that in a few instances the fat is not as much as 3-10 of milk solids. Furthermore in normal milk the fat is in excess of the protein, while the reverse frequently seems to be the case in the condensed milks. Such results might readily lead one to suspect that the milk used for condensing had in some way lost a small part of its fat.

The column headed "concentration" shows the number of pounds of milk required to make one pound of the condensed milk without any allowance for the cane sugar.

The next column, headed "amount of fresh milk per can," shows the calculated amount of fresh milk of normal quantity that is actually condensed in the can, and consequently the bulk to which the contents of the can should be brought in order that the milk solids may be reduced to a percentage the same as found in cow's milk of average quality (12.5 per cent.). In this calculation the cane sugar is again left out of account.

The meaning of this column can perhaps be better explained by a direct illustration. Take, for example, the Michigan Condensed Milk Company's Peninsular Brand (the third sample), given in Table I. Opposite this brand in the column headed "amount of fresh milk per can" we find 0.97 qts. This means that in this particular can was condensed 0.97 of one quart of milk. The contents of the can weighed 0.91 of one pound; 42.24 per cent. of this weight, or 0.384 of one pound, was sugar. The remaining 0.526 of one pound represents the weight of milk now in the can. In this particular case we calculate that 0.97 of a quart of milk has been boiled down to this weight. If we take one quart of fresh cow's milk of average quality and dissolve in it 0.38 pound of sugar we will have a close approximation to the amount of milk and sugar that the manufacturer has put it in the can. The purchaser of this can of milk has therefore received about one quart of milk and 0.38 of one pound of sugar. The price paid for this can was ten cents. As the sugar is worth two cents there is eight cents left for the quart of milk.

PUBLISHED FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—EDITION LIMITED TO 25,000 COPIES.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The list include all licenses granted up to and including July 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.

DAIRY AND FOOD DIVISION.

HARRISBURG, PA., July 15, 1905.

To Whom It May Concern:

The Dairy and Food Commissioner of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully invites careful attention to the appended Acts of Assembly enacted by the recent Legislature, and approved by His Excellency, Governor Pennypacker.

The Act relating to the sale of fresh meat, fish, etc., is of special importance, and those selling, offering or exposing for sale fresh meat, fish, poultry, shell-fish, etc., will do well to comply with its provisions.

It is also to be carefully noted that the so-called "Boracic acid act" of 1903 has been repealed.

Druggists and others dispensing soda-water, soft drinks, etc., will be interested in the text of the "Fruit Syrup Act" which is also printed in this issue of the Monthly Bulletin.

It is but fair to inform manufacturers and the trade, generally, that all persons violating any of the provisions of the several Acts now printed in this publication, will be held to a strict accountability. Violations of these Acts, if discovered, will result in the enforcement of the law and the infliction of the penalties therein provided.

Very respectfully,

B. H. Warren.

Dairy and Food Commissioner.

RECENT OPINIONS OF THE HON. HAMPTON L. CARSON, ATTORNEY GENERAL OF PENNSYLVANIA, RELATING TO THE DAIRY AND FOOD LAWS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

To Whom It May Concern: The appended opinions of the Hon. Hampton L. Carson, Attorney General of Pennsylvania, are respectfully submitted to the readers of the MONTHLY BULLETIN, for information.

The adverse decision of the Supreme Court which declared that the Pure Food Act of June 26, 1895, did not apply to adulterated, drugged or poisonous liquor, and that no prosecutions could be sustained under the aforesaid law, has resulted in numerous applications from defendants who had paid fines and costs to the Dairy and Food Commissioner for reimbursement. The opinion just delivered is self-explanatory.

Another opinion from the same learned authority is also printed, as it relates to the adulteration of liquor, etc., and suggests the proper remedial measures necessary for coping with the evil.

These two opinions read as follows:

Office of Attorney General,
Harrisburg, Pa., June 22, 1905.

Dr. B. H. Warren,

Dairy and Food Commissioner,

Harrisburg, Pa.

Sir: You have asked for an official opinion with regard to the payment of fines collected by the Commonwealth in pure food prosecutions. I assume that what is meant is a prosecution under the act of June 26, 1895, for the sale of adulterated liquors, and that inas much as the portion of the act declared unconstitutional by the Chief Justice in the case of Commonwealth vs. Kebort is limited solely to the adulterations of liquor, the question which you put must be restated so as to embrace solely the matter of repayment of fines collected by the Commonwealth in prosecutions hitherto brought for the adulterations of liquors, and I take it that the word liquor must be read in the narrow sense of an intoxicant, because in my judgment the decision of the court does not relate to prosecutions brought by you for the adulteration of milk or other liquids which are recognized as food.

With the question thus limited, I answer that there is no provision in the law which would authorize the repayment by the Commonwealth or by you, as the Commonwealth's officer, of fines already collected. At the time the prosecutions were brought and the money was received through the payment of fines, you were acting within the terms of an act of Assembly presumed to be constitutional, and sustained by a decision of the Superior Court which had not been reversed. Section 5 of this act distinctly provided that all penalties and costs for the violation of its provisions should be paid to the Dairy and Food Commissioner or his agent, and by him paid into the State Treasury, to be kept as a fund separate and apart for the use of the Department of Agriculture for the enforcement of the act, and to be drawn out upon warrant signed by the Secretary of Agriculture and the Auditor General. The moneys must, therefore, be treated as State moneys and in the Treasury of the State, and whether actually paid to the State Treasurer or still in your hands awaiting payment makes no difference because it is your duty to pay the same into the State Treasury. There is no statute which would authorize you drawing a warrant or having a warrant drawn by the Secretary of Agriculture to be joined in by the Auditor General upon the State Treasurer for the reimbursement or repayment of these fines, and the moneys being in the State Treasury, cannot be drawn out without specific appropriation. Section 16 of Article III of the Constitution providing expressly that "no money shall be paid out of the Treasury except upon appropriations made by law, and on warrant drawn by the proper officer in pursuance thereof." Inasmuch as the Legislature has not authorized the Secretary of Agriculture or yourself to draw warrants for any such purpose, and there is no such appropriation of the fund now in the State Treasury arising from the source indicated, there can be no such return made.

Aside from this it is a general principle of law that the Commonwealth is not liable for costs. We have followed a fixed and certain principle prevailing in England, that at the common law the king neither receives nor pays costs in any case, unless specially directed by act of Parliament or Assembly. In the case if Irwin vs. Commissioners of Northumberland county, 1 S. & R., 505, and also McKeehan vs. The Commonwealth 3 Penn'a State, 153, it was held that the Commonwealth stands in the place of the king. The subject is further discussed in Commonwealth vs. Johnson, 5 S. & R., 194, and Lyon vs. Adams, 4 S. & R., 443, In the case of Commonwealth vs. Philadelphia County, 8 S. & R., 151, the court in speaking of a kindred subject, said: "The recognizance is not granted to the county; the county is not the assignee of the State, it can neither release the action, nor mitigate nor remit the forfeiture. The Commonwealth is not liable for costs on her own prosecutions, whether civil or criminal. This exemption, whether it be called prerogative or privilege, is founded on the sovereign character of the State, amenable to no judicial tribunal, subject to no process." Wadlinger on the law of costs in Pennsylvania, (p. 163). See also American and English Encyclopedia of Law, vol. 4, page 316, where it is said: "The general terms of an act giving costs do not include the State or national governments; and, in the absence of express provisions, costs are not awarded in favor or against them, and in actions of a public nature, conducted in good faith for the public benefit, costs are rarely awarded against public officers."

I am of opinion, therefore, that you cannot make repayment of fines. This general answer is sufficient to cover the matter of costs referred to as growing out of the liquor prosecutions pending, but not yet disposed of, which you will now be called upon to deal with in view of the decision of the Supreme Court. With the responsibility or legal liability of the county or counties you have nothing, whatever, to do. Your standpoint is that of a Commonwealth's officer and you should act accordingly, leaving to the course of events and to such steps as counsel for the parties defendant may see fit to employ, the determination of the proper method of raising the legal question.

I herewith return you the letters accompanying the request for my opinion.

Very respectfully,
HAMPTON L. CARSON,
Attorney General.

(Signed.)

Office of the Attorney General,
Harrisburg, Pa., June 22, 1905.

Dr. B. H. Warren,
Dairy and Food Commissioner,
Harrisburg, Pa.:

Sir: I have examined the papers sent me by Mr. O. D. Schock, Assistant Dairy and Food Commissioner, consisting of Professor Cochran's special report on analyses of liquor, certain chemists' reports, the opinion of the Superior Court in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Kebort, and the opinion of Chief Justice Mitchell in the same case, and read them in the light of certain memoranda submitted by you.

The opinion of the Chief Justice in effect declares the act of June 26, 1895 (P. L. 317) unconstitutional so far as it was assumed to apply to drink. The decision, however, does not change the effect of the act in as far as it applies to the adulteration of food. I do not read the decision of the Supreme Court as covering such liquids as milk, cream and buttermilk, because such liquids are regarded as food. So far, therefore, as the matter of adulterations of food are concerned, your powers and duties continue as formerly, but you cannot prosecute, under this act, violators of its terms in the matter of drink. You ask whether or not the Department of Health can prosecute such offenders under the terms of the act creating a Department of Health, approved the 27th of April, 1905. Sections 5, 7, 8, 9 and 14 are the only ones from which such a power could be inferentially derived. A careful examination of them satisfies me that they are not specific enough to justify criminal prosecutions for such acts as you have hitherto been in the habit of prosecuting, nor is there anything in the title of the act creating a Department of Health and defining its powers and duties which would give notice to legislators or citizens that violations of the law in the matter of adulterations of drink could be prosecuted by the Department of Health or its officers. In other words, the very objection which proved conclusive in the opinion of the Chief Justice when dealing with the defects of the title to the act of June 26, 1895, could be urged against the act creating a Department of Health, were it stretched to the point of covering prosecutions. Nowhere in the act creating a Department of Health is it made the duty of the Commissioner of Health to institute such prosecutions, and a careful examination of it leads me to believe that the protection of the health of the people of the State, and the determination and employment of the most efficient and practical means for the prevention and suppression of diseases do not contemplate the prosecution of individuals selling adulterated liquor. It would be unwise to attempt to stretch that statute in that direction or to cover such offenses. This is but a general view. If there be any specific action contemplated in a specific class of cases, I prefer to be specifically interrogated, for it may be that some regulation of the Department of Health could be devised to correct or restrain the sale of adulterated liquors by anyone on the ground of danger to the public health. This, however, presents a different question from that before me.

I am of opinion that the State Pharmaceutical Examining Board can prosecute offenders who manufacture for sale, offer for sale, or sell adulterated drugs and medicinal preparations. The powers of that Board are defined by the act of 25th of May, 1897 (P. L. 85), but their powers are not bestowed upon the Department of Health and cannot be exercised by that Department; nor do I think that the State Pharmaceutical Examining Board could prosecute the ordinary sellers of liquor, even though the liquor be adulterated. My reading of the statute confines its provisions to the sale of drugs and medicinal preparations.

There is a part of our general criminal code which may be of interest. Let me call your attention to Section 1 of the act of 14th of April, 1863 (P. L. 389), which declares that "It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to make use of any active poison or other deleterious drugs, in any quantity or quantities, in the manufacture or preparation, by process of rectifying or otherwise, of any intoxicating malt or alcoholic liquors, or for any person or persons to knowingly sell such poisoned or drugged liquors in any quantity or quantities, and any person or persons so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor." Section 5 of the same act provides that on conviction, the convict shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $500, and to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding twelve months or both or either in the discretion of the court. The second section provides that manufacturers shall brand their names on barrels and also the words "containing no deleterious drugs or added poison," and shall also certify the same fact or facts to the purchaser over his, her or their own proper signature. The third section provides that possession of drugged liquor shall be deemed prima facie evidence of a violation of the provisions of the act and the fourth section provides that any suspected article or specimen of intoxicating malt or alcoholic liquor shall be subjected to analysis by some competent person to perform the same under the direction of the court before which the case is tried, and such analysis, duly certified under oath shall be deemed legal evidence in any court in the State.

The duty of enforcing this act of April 14, 1863, is imposed under the law upon the District Attorney. I herewith return the papers which you sent me.

Very respectfully,

(Signed.) HAMPTON L. CARSON,
Attorney General.

MONTHLY BULLETIN

OF THE

Dairy and Food Division

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PRINTER OF PENNSYLVANIA,

AT

HARRISBURG, PA.

Issued by Direction of Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Dr. B. H. Warren.
MANAGING EDITOR—Oliver D. Schock.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR—Prof. C. B. Cochran.

PUBLISHED FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—EDITION LIMITED TO 25,000 COPIES.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The list includes all licenses granted up to and including August 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.

OF THE

Dairy and Food Division

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PRINTER OF PENNSYLVANIA,

AT

HARRISBURG, PA.

Issued by Direction of Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Dr. B. H. Warren.
MANAGING EDITOR—Oliver D. Schock.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR—Prof. C. B. Cochran.

PUBLISHED FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—EDITION LIMITED TO 25,000 COPIES.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The list includes all licenses granted up to and including September 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.

MONTHLY BULLETIN

OF THE

Dairy and Food Division

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PRINTER OF PENNSYLVANIA,

AT

HARRISBURG, PA.

Issued by Direction of Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Dr. B. H. Warren.
MANAGING EDITOR—Oliver D. Schock.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR—Prof. C. B. Cochran.

PUBLISHED FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—EDITION LIMITED TO 25,000 COPIES.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The list includes all licenses granted up to and including October 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.

MONTHLY BULLETIN

OF THE

Dairy and Food Division

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PRINTER OF PENNSYLVANIA,

AT

HARRISBURG, PA.

Issued by Direction of Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Dr. B. H. Warren.
MANAGING EDITOR—Oliver D. Schock.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR—Prof. C. B. Cochran.

PUBLISHED FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—EDITION LIMITED TO 25,000 COPIES.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The list includes all licenses granted up to and including November 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.

MONTHLY BULLETIN

OF THE

Dairy and Food Division

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PRINTER OF PENNSYLVANIA,

AT

HARRISBURG, PA.

Issued by Direction of Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Dr. B. H. Warren.
MANAGING EDITOR—Oliver D. Schock.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR—Prof. C. B. Cochran.

PUBLISHED FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—EDITION LIMITED TO 25,000 COPIES.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The list includes all licenses granted up to and including December 15, 1905.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.

OF THE

PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

PUBLISHED MONTHLY AT THE OFFICE OF THE STATE PRINTER OF PENNSYLVANIA,

AT

HARRISBURG, PA.

Issued by Direction of Hon. N. B. Critchfield, Secretary of Agriculture.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Dr. B. H. Warren.
MANAGING EDITOR—Oliver D. Schoce.
ASSOCIATE EDITOR—Prof. C. B. Cochran.

PUBLISHED FOR GRATUITOUS DISTRIBUTION—EDITION LIMITED TO 25,000 COPIES.

NOTE.

This publication relates to the operations of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture. It is distributed to such who are interested in the work of enforcing the dairy and food laws of this Commonwealth. Each number gives a brief resume of the work accomplished by the Commissioner and his force of assistants during the preceding month.

By authority of law, nearly twenty-five thousand copies are distributed monthly. The bulk of this large edition reaches grocers and general store-keepers, while the miscellaneous list includes the representative people of this and adjoining States who are interested in the enforcement of the dairy and food laws.

A strong, hearty public sentiment in favor of pure and better articles of food and drink has been aroused, and whether the comparatively small tradesmen come under the ban, who might possibly complain, because of the publicity given to suits brought against them, or whether a business produces millions for the investor, the same publicity is accorded to all in the columns of the Monthly Bulletin. This medium of publicity has already accomplished an almost incalculable amount of good, and assisted very materially in successfully enforcing the various acts of Assembly placed under the administration of this Division.

The several lists giving the names of licensed oleomargarine and renovated butter dealers which appear in this number, are especially noteworthy for those interested in the sale of these commodities. The list includes all licenses granted up to and including January 15, 1906.

The Commissioner has instructed the Special Agents of this Division of the Department of Agriculture to make a careful examination in their several districts for unlicensed or illegal dealers in oleomargarine and renovated butter. Violators of the law will be promptly arrested and punished when the evidence is regarded as sufficient to secure a conviction.

The Commissioner recognizes the fact that this is due to all concerned, as the licensed dealer is entitled to the protection of the law, and the unlicensed vendor will not be permitted to escape his responsibility for disregarding legislation which was enacted for mutual protection.

The hearty co-operation accorded, and the friendly help extended by the public and the press generally, demands grateful acknowledgment. Without their support, the best efforts would in many cases have been thwarted or rendered futile.
